

MONEY & BUSINESS

PEOPLE IN BUSINESS

Bank Rhode Island

William C. DeWitt of Barrington

has been named senior vice president for marketing and corporate communications. Most recently, he was a senior vice president at Citizens Financial Group in Westwood, Mass., where he was director of advertising, media buying and creative services. In his 18-year business career, he has worked mostly in banking and financial services companies.

Cox Communications

Lisa Gauvin of North Kingston has been named vice president, customer-care operations strategy and planning and is responsible for leading contact center operations strategy and for providing operations support for the contact centers throughout the country. She joined the company in 1999, most recently serving as the company's vice president, customer care, New England division of customer solutions and has more than 14 years experience as a contact center executive.

Correia and Associates

Mark Iacono of Providence has joined the firm as a senior associate concentrating in estate tax planning, business planning and asset protection. Most recently, he was an associate with the Providence law firm of Salter, McGowan, Sylvia & Leonard. He is admitted to practice in Rhode Island, Massachusetts and Florida.

EPOCH Assisted Living

Debra A. Johnson of Providence

has joined EPOCH Assisted Living on the East Side as life enrichment director and is responsible for organizing, creating and overseeing the daily activities and entertainment for residents, recruiting and training volunteers and coordinating community outreach.

To submit items, send information to Pat Pothier, Newsroom, The Providence Journal, 75 Fountain St., Providence 02902, e-mail to ppothier@projournal.com or fax to 277-6250.